A. INTRODUCTION

Background

In July 1985, the Government of Ontario issued a proclamation naming November 29, 1985 as the day on which Part IX of the Environmental Protection Act R.S.O. 1980, c.141, as amended, comes into force. Part IX, passed by the Ontario Legislature in 1979, requires the immediate reporting and remedying of spills of pollutants into the environment. It further provides for compensation for damages, losses, costs and expenses arising from spills and their clean-up.

To make Part IX fully operative, a draft regulation was first circulated for comment in 1982, to take effect in conjunction with the coming into force of Part IX. To this end, the Honourable Jim Bradley, Minister of the Environment, on July 25, 1985 appointed a three-member Spills Regulation Advisory Panel to conduct an immediate review of the July, 1985 Draft Regulation. The Panel, consisting of Professor John G.W. Manzig (Chairman), Janette MacDonald and Peter Armour, was to receive representations from the public and report to the Minister on whether any changes should be made to the Draft Regulation.

Terms of Reference

The Spills Regulation Advisory Panel was established by the Minister of the Environment with the following terms of reference:

I. To obtain the public's views on the proposed Regulation to be established in support of Part IX of the Environmental Protection Act; and

II. To make recommendations to the Minister on amendments to the proposed Regulation by August 31, 1985.

The Panel was requested to obtain the public's advice on the following specific subjects:

I. The conditions which must be met in order to obtain compensation from the Crown under sections 89 or 91 of the Act.
II. The amounts of compensation which may be payable.
III. The exemptions for certain types of spills.
IV. The limit of liability prescribed for farmers and the qualifications for enjoying the benefits of the limit.
V. The conditions which must be met by insurers to exercise their rights of subrogation.
VI. Any other matters which the Act authorizes to be dealt with by regulation in relation to Part IX of the Act.

Public Consultation Procedures

To meet the Minister's requirements for obtaining the public's views on the Draft Regulation, meeting notices were placed in 28 English and French daily and weekly newspapers throughout Ontario. Newspaper, radio and television media were contacted to publicize the Panel meetings and to request oral and written submissions from the public.

Simultaneously, the Ministry sent out copies of a notice of meetings, the July, 1985 Draft Regulation and summary thereof (attached as Appendices B and C respectively) to approximately 2000 individuals and agricultural, business, environmental, industrial, municipal and other bodies and organizations.

The Panel held public meetings from August 12 to August 27, 1985 in the following cities:

Toronto	Chatham
St. Catharines	Kingston
Thunder Bay	Sudbury

(schedule attached as Appendix B)

The Panel received 55 oral and written submissions during its nine days of public meetings. It also received 17 additional written submissions by mail during August 1985 (list of submissions attached as Appendix D). The briefs received ranged from one page letters to substantial presentations from individuals and industrial, agricultural, insurance, environmental and municipal organizations.

The written and oral submissions received by the Panel presented a spectrum of views on the issues within the Panel's terms of reference and were most helpful in providing a basis for the Panel's deliberations and the recommendations made in this report.

B. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- In response to a constantly recurring theme in the great majority of submissions from the public and as an indication of the Panel's own strong consensus, the underlying objectives of many of our recommendations are:

  . clarification and simplification of procedures for applicants for compensation under Sections 89 and 91 and for insurers operating in co-operation with the Crown

  . greater comprehensibility generally, of the Regulation so that its usefulness will extend beyond its authors and a few others thoroughly familiar with it

  . the introduction of a general principle of fairness and reasonableness into those phases of the administrative procedures in the Regulation where that principle is perceived to be presently lacking

I. CONDITIONS FOR COMPENSATION

Section 89: Recipients of Orders and Directions

- For persons applying under Section 89, the Panel has recommended:

  . where possible the recipient should be treated the same way as any other person providing a service to the Crown

  . where application through Section 89 is necessary, disclosure obligations be less detailed and proof of amount be simplified

  . the time limit for application be extended to eighteen months, and measured from the time of incurring the cost or expense

Section 91: Spill Creditors and Owners or Persons in Control of Pollutant

- For Section 91 applicants, there should be a delineation between spill creditors on the one hand and owners or controllers of spilled pollutants on the other, so that relevant conditions can be allocated to each for greater clarity

- Section 91 spill creditors and owners or controllers should have a less detailed disclosure obligation in making application to the Environmental Compensation Corporation (E.C.C.)

- The obligation of the spill creditor or the owner or controller of the spilled pollutant to pursue court actions against others to final judgment or settlement before applying to E.C.C. should be subject to the joint discretion of E.C.C and the applicant

- The proposal required of E.C.C. in Sec. 94 of the Act should be given to the applicant within 60 days of the applicant's proof of loss to the Corporation

- Payment should be made to the applicant within 30 days of applicant's acceptance of the proposal

Spill Creditor

- The two week interim notice period for spill creditor applicants should be extended to 90 days

Owner Or Person In Control

- If an owner or controller of spilled pollutants is liable for the spill at common law, he should not have access to E.C.C.

II. AMOUNTS OF COMPENSATION

Section 89 Recipients of Orders and Directions

- Procedures used in determination of the applicable amount should be simplified

Section 91 Applicants (Spill Creditors)

- The limit for payment to a spill creditor under regulation 10(2) should be amended to be the lesser of
  - i) the amount of judgment or settlement (with E.C.C. consent) or
  - ii) $500,000 inclusive of bodily injury or other loss
- in determination of the amount of the spill creditor's claim, the procedure should be simplified

Section 91 Applicants (Owner or Person in Control)

- In the calculation of the E.C.C. amount the formula should encourage persons to maximize their own underlying insurance coverage, in contrast to the current draft in which the limit on the amount payable by E.C.C. is reduced to the detriment of the prudent insured carrying high limits
- Businesses operating both in Ontario and elsewhere should not have their available E.C.C. coverage reduced by the factor of their operations elsewhere
- In determination of the specified deductible,

  a) a more workable classification should be defined as follows:

Class I	Individuals, non-profit organizations and small municipalities and corporations
Class II	Medium municipalities and corporations.
Class III	Large municipalities and corporations.

b) recognition should be given to the coincidence of the proclamation of Part IX with the severe market crisis in the insurance business throughout the world. Therefore, the deductible should be initiated at the lowest reasonable levels, incrementing over three years to a minimum of $500,000 for Class I and higher for others, so that insurers can fill the underlying layer progressively as their capacity returns (see attached table).

III. EXEMPTIONS

The Panel generally supports the exemptions set out in s.15 to 19; however, it is recommended, in light of submissions made that the particular exemptions found in s.15, based upon the existence of approvals/certificates, etc. should be reviewed to ensure that the basis upon which the specified approvals/certificates etc. are issued are consistent with the general purpose and intent of Part IX of the Act.

IV. THE LIMITS FOR FARMERS AND THE QUALIFICATIONS THEREFOR

- The $500,000 limit in the current draft should not be changed

- A farmer who is engaged in, and has incurred liability under Part IX of the Act arising out of the production of an agricultural product on a farm, whether for himself or others, should be eligible for this limit, except that a custom farming operator whose principal source of income is from such custom work should not be eligible for the farmer's limit of liability, while engaged in such custom work.

V. CONDITIONS FOR INSURERS' SUBROGATION

- In the area of common interest between the Crown, E.C.C. and insurers, the obligation of the insurer to operate under the instructions of the Crown should be replaced by a condition which requires the insurer to protect the interests of both in the absence of conflict of interest.

C. GENERAL INTRODUCTORY COMMENT

The authors of the 1982 Draft Regulation were faced with the difficult task of delineating the parameters of the subject matter of the Regulation for the purpose of implementing Part IX of the Environmental Protection Act (the Act) and defining the new relationship between the public, their insurers, the Crown and the Environmental Compensation Corporation (the Corporation or E.C.C). The Panel has found the Draft Regulation helpful in demonstrating the number of factors which must be considered in the implementation of this legislation.

However, since a major thrust of the legislation is the creation of a compensation scheme, the Panel has been concerned with the almost unanimous comment in the submissions regarding the complexity and rigidity of procedures, and lack of clarity in the text of the Draft Regulation. This legislation and its Regulation has had a high profile in the public's mind because of its potentially far reaching implications. It is important, therefore, that the Regulation should be readily comprehensible and useful to the public at large, thereby accomplishing the purpose and intent of the legislation.

An underlying objective of many of our recommendations is the introduction of simplification and flexibilty of procedures so that the legislation in its practical application can achieve its social objectives.

We recognize that a more simplified Regulation may open it to abuse by a small segment of the public who might attempt to circumvent some of its objectives. However, we believe that only when such abuse reaches a level which thwarts the interest of the public, should this problem be addressed by appropriate amendment to the Regulation.

D. RESPONSE TO SPECIFIC TERMS OF REFERENCE

I. THE CONDITIONS WHICH MUST BE MET IN ORDER TO OBTAIN COMPENSATION FROM THE CROWN OR ENVIRONMENTAL COMPENSATION CORPORATION UNDER SECTIONS 89 AND 91 OF THE ACT.

The Panel proposes to make its recommendations in relation to this term of reference in four parts:

1. Conditions for Section 89 applicants (i.e. receivers of orders or directions),

2. Conditions for Section 91 applicants who are the owners or persons in control of spilled pollutant,

3. Conditions for Section 91 applicants who are spill creditors (i.e. persons suffering losses or damages), and

4. Matters pertaining to all applicants for compensation.

1. Conditions For Section 89 Applicants (i.e. Receivers of Orders or Directions)

a) General Comment

The Panel has received many submissions with reference to the power of the Ministry of the Environment to give directions or orders, in addition to its right to obtain contractual services, to be able to respond to a spill. Generally, the submissions have urged that Part I of the Draft Regulation be amended in order that recipients of such orders or directions be promptly and fairly compensated without their right to compensation being jeopardized as a result of a failure to comply with any unduly complicated or onerous condition. In other words, it was suggested to the Panel that the applicant should at least be compensated in the same way as any other party providing services to the government.

In light of these submissions it is the Panel's recommendation that Part I of the Draft Regulation be amended to meet these concerns.

b) Applicant's Eligibility

The Act by s.89(1) and (2) establishes who is, and who is not entitled to apply for compensation for the cost and expense incurred in complying with an order or direction. In the event that such a person, who is potentially entitled to be commpensated, otherwise settles his claim without the written consent of Her Majesty in Right of Ontario, that person should not be entitled to be an applicant for compensation.

#1. Recommendation: That potential applicants who settle without the written consent of the Crown should not be eligible to apply for compensation.

c) Disclosure Obligations

The Draft Regulation has been widely criticized as being unnecessarily detailed. It was suggested that instead of the provisions found in s.2.1 C.& D, and s.2.3.& 4., it should only be necessary for the applicant to provide such information as may be reasonably available and reasonably required to substantiate a claim. This should include the completion of a form with information reasonably relevant to the claim and the provision of a copy of the written order or direction.

In this context, the Panel notes that the Act does not require directions to be given in writing. Provision should be made in the Regulation to require directions, once issued, to be confirmed in writing, as soon as possible, by the Ministry.

Some submissions suggested that consideration should be given to including a provision to protect confidential information (medical and business) if disclosed pursuant to a general disclosure obligation.

#2. Recommendation: That disclosure requirements be limited to a general obligation to disclose what is reasonably available and reasonably required to substantiate the claim. Thus s.2.1.C.& D and s.2. 3. & 4 of the Draft Regulation should be deleted.

d) Compliance with Orders or Directions

A number of submissions addressed their concern, regarding the condition found in s.2.5 that the applicant must "... have followed every lawful order and direction that relates to the applicant ..." made under specified statutes, in order to be entitled to compensation.

The Panel suggests that this provision could more expressly state that an order or direction is not to be used as a license to ignore existing orders and directions. In other words, when an applicant is following such orders or directions, unless they expressly state to the contrary, the applicant should be obliged to make reasonable efforts to comply with all other orders and directions made under the Act, the Water Resources Act, or the Pesticides Act which apply to the applicant.

#3. Recommendation: That the condition of compliance with other orders and directions applicable to the applicant be clarified.

e) Obligations Relating to Court Actions

In the event an applicant chooses to bring a court action against a third party for his costs and expenses, it was suggested to the Panel that s.2.6.B. should be amended to limit the obligation to join everyone liable in the court action to a requirement that only those persons which the applicant reasonably believes to be liable for the applicant's costs and expenses would have to be included in such court action.

#4. Recommendation: That the applicant be required to include in any court action only those parties whom the applicant reasonably believes to be liable.

f) Time Limits

Section 2.2.A provides that applications for compensation must be made within one year from the day that the order or direction was made or given. Some submissions pointed out that the application time period appears to presume that the work ordered or directed can in each and every case be completed within one year of the date of the order or direction. In some cases the period of one year may be insufficient time for an applicant to make a claim.

In order to meet these concerns s.2.2.A could be amended to refer to eighteen months instead of one year and the closing phrase of s.2.2 could be "from the date when the person incurred the cost or expense in respect of carrying out or attempting to carry out an order or direction". This wording is consistent with s.87(13) of the Act which establishes the limitation periods for compensation for such costs and expenses.

Further, some submissions also recommended that s.2.2.B be retained in order to give Her Majesty in Right of Ontario discretion to extend the period in which an application for compensation may be made.

#5. Recommendation: That the time limit for applying for compensation be extended to eighteen months, while retaining the Crown's discretion to extend the time, and that s.2.2 be amended to reflect the wording found in the Act.

In the context of time limits, the Panel considered whether the Crown should be obliged to make payment to an applicant within 30 days of fully substantiating the claim under the Regulation. At present, the Act and the Draft Regulation do not appear to establish a time limit by which payment is to be made by the Crown.

#6. Recommendation: That a 30 day time limit be established for payment by the Crown to an applicant under s.89 of the Act.

g) Assignment of Applicant's Right of Action

In its review of s.2.6.C which requires the applicant to assign any judgment for costs and expenses, the Panel considers that this section may be superfluous in light of ss.89(4) and (5) of the Act.

#7. Recommendation: That s.2.6.C be deleted as subrogation rights are already given in the Act, and this assignment provision does not appear to be required.

h) Public Authority and Statutory Duty

On review of s.2.9 it was the Panel's opinion that ambiguities may arise in the application of this section. However, the concept of not providing compensation to a municipality which incurs costs for meeting its statutory duties appears appropriate. The comments received by the Panel indicate that the municipalities had no concern on this point.

2. Conditions for Section 91 Applicants Who are the Owners or Persons in Control of a Spilled Pollutant

a) General Comment

Many of the oral and written submissions received by the Panel addressed themselves to the question of whether:

- access to compensation from E.C.C. should be available to those parties at fault at common law,
- the procedures for obtaining compensation could be simplified to avoid unnecessary litigation and retain only those conditions that are reasonably necessary for the purpose of establishing legitimate claims.

In answer to these concerns the Panel would recommend that consideration be given to limiting the right to compensation from the Corporation to only those owners and controllers of a spilled pollutant who are otherwise not liable at common law. The Panel also has suggestions for simplifying the process of applying for compensation.

b) Applicant's Eligibility

Section 91(1)(c) of the Act and s.4(1) 4.& 5 of the Draft Regulation establish that only those owners and persons in control who are liable to pay compensation pursuant to Part IX of the Act may be eligible for compensation. Consideration could be given to deleting s.7.3 in the Draft Regulation since it appears to repeat this qualification for applicants.

Save for the ambiguities created by s.6.1, the present Draft Regulation appears to permit all owners or persons in control of a spilled pollutant to be eligible applicants regardless of whether they would otherwise be liable for the spill at common law or other statutory law. The Panel, in light of the considerations set out below, would propose that only those owners or controllers who would not otherwise be liable at common law for the spill, should have the right to apply for compensation from E.C.C.

The Panel believes this proposal furthers its desire to increase the clarity and equity of the Draft Regulation as:

- Section 8(5) appears to try to limit the applicants rights to compensation to that "additional" liability imposed by Part IX of the Act. It was submitted to the Panel that this could not be easily determined in the case where common law liability otherwise existed and would be the subject of much litigation,

- The E.C.C. should find the determination of "additional" liability greatly simplified if those otherwise liable at common law do not qualify for compensasation, and

- The Panel repeatedly received submissions stating that those "with fault" should not have access to E.C.C. compensation.

#8. Recommendation: That only those owners or persons in control of a spilled pollutant who are not otherwise liable at common law should qualify as applicants for compensation.

Further, the Panel received submissions that the excluded classes found in s.4(2)(a),(b),(c) of the Draft Regulation should be amended to include as well as Her Majesty in Right of Canada, Her Majesty in Right of all of the Provinces, as the payment of funds from one governmental body (E.C.C.) to another appeared circular. Other Non-Canadian governmental authorities should also be excluded.

#9. Recommendation: That the owners and controllers excluded from the right to E.C.C. compensation be extended to Her Majesty in the Right of all of the Provinces and any other Non-Canadian governmental authority.

For the purposes of excluding non-residents from being eligible applicants (s.4(2)(e)) it was suggested to and accepted by the Panel that only those corporations which do not have a place of business within the Province of Ontario should be excluded and that the qualification of non-resident exemption in the case where legislative reciprocity exists be retained (see Recommendation #18) for owners and controllers, in order to foster the development of future reciprocal legislation in other jurisdictions.

The Panel suggests that s.6.2 and s.6.3 be retained subject to the comments in Appendix A in which the Panel recommends that s.6.2 be made consistent with the reciprocity provisions found in s.4(2)(e).

#10. Recommendation: That owners or persons in control who are not residents of Ontario be excluded from the right to E.C.C. compensation unless reciprocal legislation exists in their jurisdicton of residence in accordance with the concept presently found in s.4(2)(e) of the Draft Regulation.

The Panel considered the conditions presently contained in the Draft Regulation which exclude those persons who fail to meet the solvency tests (s.7.5).

It is the Panel's understanding that the solvency test in s.7.5 is for the purpose of ensuring that any funds paid by E.C.C. are to be for the benefit of those entitled to compensation for losses, damages, costs and expenses under the Act and Draft Regulation, and not all creditors of an insolvent person.

Also, when determining solvency and in light of the Panel's Recommendation #37 on "assets", the Panel suggests that the concept of "the family of corporations" be deleted from s.7.5.A.,B.& C.

#11. Recommendation: That when considering an applicant's eligibility, the condition relating to solvency of the applicant owner or controller of the spilled pollutant in s.7.5 should also be retained.

c) Disclosure Obligations

A concern was expressed by the public that the present information and access requirements are exceptionally broad and possibly unnecessary for the establishment of all reasonable claims, along with the suggestion that all that is really necessary is a general obligation requiring all applicants to provide such information as may be reasonably available and reasonably required to substantiate the applicant's claim. This could include the completion of the form referred to in s.5.1.A with information reasonably relevant to the claim and would permit the deletion of s.5.1.B & C, and s.5.2.& 3.

The Panel also notes that some submissions suggested that there was a need to provide, in the Regulation, protection for confidential information (medical or business), if disclosed pursuant to this general obligation to substantiate a claim.

#12. Recommendation: That disclosure requirements of the owner and person in control of the pollutant be limited to a general obligation to disclose what is reasonably available and reasonably required to substantiate a claim. Thus s.5.1.B & C, and s.5.2. & 3. can be deleted.

d) Obligations relating to Court Actions

In keeping with the concept that E.C.C. is to provide a safety net for those owners and controllers who have incurred liability pursuant to Part IX in excess of the specified deductible, it is the Panel's view that the requirements set out in s.7.1. & 4 requiring pursuit of an action to final judgment and the use of all remedies to obtain payment, may be unduly restrictive and onerous.

It was suggested that the applicant should only be obligated to take reasonable steps to finally determine liability and to proceed with due diligence to obtain payment of funds owing to the applicant in respect of the claim before being entitled to apply to E.C.C. for compensation. It would then be possible to replace s.3(1)(g) and s.7.1 & 4 with this general obligation, and thereby remove what appears to be an unnecessarily rigid and detailed requirement.

Further, in light of some of the examples provided to the Panel by the public, the Panel considered whether E.C.C. should be given the discretion to waive this general obligation upon formal written request of the applicant, where the merits do not justify the continuation of an action.

In Part D VI of this report, the Panel discusses the need to give E.C.C. the discretionary power and the basis on which such power is to be exercised.

#13. Recommendation: That the applicant need only have a general obligation to take reasonable steps to finally determine liability and to proceed with due diligence to obtain payment of funds owing to it in relation to the applicant's claim. Further that E.C.C. be given the discretionary power to waive the above obligation upon request of the applicant.

e) Time Limits

The Panel has not received any comments on the time limits for submitting a claim under s.7.2. The Panel's only suggestion would be to add a reference to the date of E.C.C.'s waiver to recognize the discretionary power that may be given to E.C.C. pursuant to Recommendation #13 relating to the applicant's obligation to take court actions.

#14. Recommendation: That the time limit for applying for compensation be amended to recognize waivers that may be given by E.C.C. as set out in Recommendation #13.

It is also the Panel's recommendation that an express provision be included in the Regulation requiring payment by the Crown of an established claim within 30 days of the applicant's acceptance of the proposal under s.94(1) of the Act. It may also be possible to impose an obligation on E.C.C. to proceed with diligence to present the proposal to the applicant within 60 days of the applicant's proof of loss to E.C.C.

#15. Recommendation: That a time limit of 60 days be established by which E.C.C. must make a proposal for compensation and upon acceptance of such proposal by the applicant, a time limit of 30 days be established for payment by the Crown to the applicant under s.91 of the Act.

3. Conditions for Section 91 Applicants who are Spill Creditors

a) General Comment

Sections 9 and 10 of the Draft Regulation permits a spill creditor to be compensated in the following cases:

- when the spill creditor's claim is below a specified amount (presently fixed at $10,000),
- when the spill creditor is applying for a limited interim payment only (presently $10,000 plus 10% of the total claim),
- when the spill creditor decides to prosecute his claim on his own by action in the courts with the intention of collecting from E.C.C. should any resulting judgement turn out to be uncollectible, or
- when the spill creditor collects the interim payment and pursues in a court action the collection of the balance.

In general, the substance of the conditions to be met by a spill creditor to become entitled to compensation payments from the Corporation did not receive as much critical comment from the public as the format, style of drafting and particularly the clarity of the provisons imposing the conditions. It was suggested by several submissions that the language and structure of ss.9 & 10 of the Draft Regulation was extremely difficult to comprehend and if enacted as now written would require many applicants to go to the unnecessary expense of obtaining legal counsel in order to file even the simplest application for compensation with the Corporation.

The Panel would recommend where the claims conditions set out in ss.9 & 10 differ with the nature of the claim being made that the alternative claims conditions be more clearly identified.

#16. Recommendation: That for each of the four cases of spill creditor applications in ss.9 & 10 of the Draft Regulation, the relevant claims conditions be clearly identified.

b) Applicant's Eligibility

The Draft Regulation, after prescribing under s.4(1)1., .2 & .3 the classes of persons who may be spill creditors for the purposes of s.91 of the Act, excludes in s.4(2)(a) to (c) among others, Her Majesty in the right of Canada, Her agencies, boards, commissions and Crown corporations.

As discussed for Recommendation #9, the Panel received submissions suggesting that there is little justification for not excluding similarily the Crown in right of Ontario, to prevent a circular movement of funds between the various parts of the Provincial Government. The Panel supports the reasons underlying the above suggestion and would apply it also to the class of applicants who are spill creditors; thus Recommendation #9 extending the exclusion of s.4(2)(a)to (c) to the Crown in the Right of all of the Provinces and any other non-Canadian governmental authority should also be applied to spill creditors.

#17. Recommendation: That Recommendation #9 extending the exclusion in s.4(2)(a)-(c) to the Crown in the Right of all Provinces and any other non-Canadian governmental authority be also applicable to potential spill creditors.

A further exclusion is introduced in s.4(2)(e) of the Draft Regulation whereby a person ordinarily resident outside Ontario is outside the prescribed class of spill creditors, unless that person can show that the jurisdiction of his ordinary residence has legislation substantially similar to Part IX of the Act and provides for reciprocal treatment of Ontario residents.

A number of submissions were critical of this reciprocity provision, because it is said to be discriminatory by denying the financial protection of Part IX of the Act to other Canadian residents and to all visitors to Ontario. It was also submitted that the disentitlement to compensation might result in a negative reaction from the owners and operators of out-of-province road transport vehicles.

The Panel carefully considered these submissions, but does not recommend the deletion of the reciprocity concept in s.4(2)(e) of the Draft Regulation for the following reasons:

- Firstly, such reciprocity provisions have been part of the law of Ontario and of other jurisdictions for a number of years, and generally, appear to have met with public acceptance .

- Secondly, there was no apparent evidence that would support the contention that out-of-province owners would respond negatively to the reciprocity provisions to the detriment of other Ontario highway users.

- Finally, it appears desirable that other jurisdictions enact environmental compensation legislation similar to Part IX of the Ontario Act; the reciprocity provision clearly encourages such a development.

Subject to the comment in Appendix A relating to the consistency of wording in s.4(2)(e) and ss.6.2 and 6.3, the Panel would support the retention of the exclusion and reciprocity provision for spill creditors.

#18. Recommendation: That the spill creditor who is not a resident of Ontario be excluded from the right to E.C.C. compensation unless receiprocal legislation exists in their jurisdiction of residence in accordance with the concept presently found in s.4(2)(e) of the Draft Regulation.

c) Disclosure Obligations

The discussion for Recommendation #12 with reference to the extent of the disclosure requirements as they relate to the owner and person in control of the spilled pollutant are equally applicable to the spill creditor. In fact, the need to simplify, clarify and to make the disclosure provisions less onerous may be even greater in the case of the spill creditor, in light of what presently exists in ss.5, 9 and 10 of the Draft Regulation. This view is reflected in the submissions that were highly critical of the rigid proof requirements.

The obligation imposed in s.5.1.A to fill in the application form provided by the Corporation provides E.C.C. with full opportunities to specify the extent to which relevant supporting evidence, including medical examinations and records are required and to adapt such requirement to the nature of individual claims. The resulting flexibility should simplify applications for the spill creditor by restricting the "proof requirements" to that which is relevent, reasonably available and reasonably required to establish the claim and at the same time, save administrative cost for the Corporation.

#19. Recommendation: That the disclosure requirements of the spill creditor be limited to a general obligation to disclose what is reasonably available and reasonably required to substantiate a claim. Thus, s.5.1.B & C, and s.5.2. & 3 can be deleted along with s.9.3(iv)B, s.9.6(ii) and s.9.8.

d) Obligations relating to Court Actions

The general thrust of the comment and Recommendation #13 relating to the obligations of owners and controllers of spilled pollutants with regard to court actions, is to some degree also applicable to spill creditors in determining their 'losses and damages'. A similar general obligation to take reasonable steps to finally determine losses and damages, and to proceed with due diligence to obtain compensation therefor should apply to spill creditors.

To the extent that the Draft Regulation has, indeed, modified the "payor of last resort" or "financial safety net" function of the Corporation with regard to spill creditors, procedural simplification and a reduction of the extent of a spill creditor's obligation as it relates to court actions appears to be even more essential.

With regard to the spill creditor who suffered losses or injury amounting to less than $10,000, the requirement in s.9(2)(i) that "every person liable" be notified should be modified so that an applicant does not have to retain legal counsel to make a determination as to who is potentially legally liable for the spill.

For the spill creditor whose claim exceeds $10,000 and who wishes to apply to the Corporation for an interim payment of $10,000 and 10% of the balance of his claim under s.9.4 the above notice requirement under s.9.2(i) appears reasonable; however, this notification requirement need include only those whom the spill creditor reasonably believes to be liable. Thus the last phrase of s.9.2(i) commencing with "but" can be deleted.

The requirement under s.9.3(i) that an action be commenced "...against all persons liable to the applicant in respect of the spill..." should be amended to limit the obligation to commence actions only against those who the spill creditor reasonably believes to be liable. Thus, the last phrase in s.9.3(i) commencing with "...whose identity ..." may be deleted.

Further, at the request of the applicant, this requirement should be subject to E.C.C. discretion, so that it can be waived in the same manner as E.C.C. can waive the owner's and controller's obligation as set out in Recommendation #13.

For those spill creditors who wish to file a claim for an interim payment or who decide to pursue their legal remedies in the courts without first applying for such payment from the Corporation, the same discretionary power should be given to the E.C.C. to waive the requirement under s.9.3(iii) that such spill creditor "...prosecute the action or actions to final judgement or dismissal...".

#20. Recommendation: That the notice requirement under s.9.2(i) with reference to the applicant whose claim is for less than $10,000 be amended in such a way that an applicant does not have to retain legal counsel to make a determination as to who is potentially legally liable for the spill and that the notice requirement for other applicants who are spill creditors be amended to incorporate a "standard of reasonableness" in its application.

Further, that at the request of the applicant E.C.C. be given the discretionary power to waive the spill creditor's general obligation to take reasonable steps to finally determine losses and damages, and to proceed with due diligence to obtain compensation, on the same basis as it would exercise the similar discretion for owners and controllers of spilled pollutants as set out in Recommendation #13.

e) Time Limits :

Submissions were received that commented critically on the shortness of the interim notice period of two weeks in s.9(10) of the Draft Regulation. Even though the Corporation is given the discretionary power to waive the notice requirement if it is of the opinion that its ability to assess the loss or damage has not been prejudicial the Panel sees considerable merit in the suggestion that, for reasons of equity, the interim notice period for spill creditors be substantially extended.

A change in the interim notice period seems to be justified in light of the submission that people who suffer losses as a result of a spill will not be immediately aware of Part IX and the Regulation and the requirement for the giving of notice.

The Panel would therefore recommend that the interim notice period be extended to 90 days, while maintaining the discretionary power of the Corporation to grant a waiver from the condition of the notice in appropriate cases.

#21. Recommendation: That s.9(10) be amended to provide an interim notice period of 90 days during which the spill creditor must give interim notice of his loss or damage.

With reference to Recommendation #15 with regard to the introduction into the Regulation of a provision requiring the Crown to pay an established claim within 30 days of the applicant's acceptance of the proposal under s.94(1) of the Act, the Panel would suggest that the equitable considerations underlying that recommendation apply equally to the time period during which spill creditors should be entitled to expect payment of their compensation claims.

Equally, the Panel concluded that consideration should be given to oblige ECC to proceed with due diligence and to present the proposal under s.94 of the Act to the applicant spill creditor within 60 days of proof of loss.

#22. Recommendation: That a time limit of 60 days be established by which E.C.C. must make a proposal for compensation to the spill creditor applicant under s.94 of the Act and that upon acceptance of such proposal, a time limit of 30 days be established for payment to such spill creditor applicant by the Crown.

In light of the recommendation that the Corporation be given discretionary powers to waive the applicant's obligations under s.9.3 with regard to court actions, it appears necessary that an appropriate amendment be made to s.9.11.B which now provides for a one year application period after final judgment or settlement of the action.

#23. Recommendation: That the time limit for applying for compensation in s.9.11.B be amended to recognize waivers that may be given by E.C.C. as recommended above.

4. Matters pertaining to all Applicants for Compensation

There are provisions dealing with misrepresentation made by applicants for compensation under s.91 of the Act in Part II of the Draft Regulation (ss.5.4 and 12.2). If such provisions are considered necessary, they should be made applicable to all applicants under s.89 and 91 of the Act so that there is a general prohibition against applicants knowingly or recklessly misrepresenting or omitting any information in any application or proceeding in respect of an application for compensation from the Crown or the Corporation.

Further, as set out in Recommendation #1 relating to receivers of orders or directions, it is the Panel's view that spill creditors and owners or persons in control of a spilled pollutant should not be entitled to be applicants for compensation if they have settled their claims without the prior written consent of E.C.C. (s.5.5).

#24. Recommendation: That s.5.4 and s.12.2 dealing with misrepresentations be made applicable to all applicants for compensation from the Crown or E.C.C. and that the condition that applicants for compensation must not settle their claims without the written consent of the Crown (s.2.6.A) or E.C.C. (s.5.5) be retained.

II. THE AMOUNTSOF COMPENSATION PAYABLE UNDER SECTIONS 89 AND 91 OF THE ACT

The Panel proposes to make its recommendations in reference to this term of reference in four parts.

1. A general principle,
2. Section 89 amounts of compensation for receivers of orders or directions,
3. Section 91 amounts of compensation for owners or persons in control of the spilled pollutant, and
4. Section 91 amounts of compensation for spill creditors (i.e. persons suffering losses or damages).

1. General Principle that Applicant not to Receive Double Payment

Upon review of Part I and Part II of the Draft Regulation consideration was given to the insertion of a general provision in the Regulation that any applicant under s.89 or s.91 of the Act:

- should exclude from the application any amount for which the applicant has already received compensation from other sources and,

- should repay to the Crown any amount received from others after payment by the Crown of costs and expenses, losses and damages to the extent that the payment from others was for such compensation.

#25. Recommendation: That the applicant should not include any amount for which the applicant has already received compensation from others and further that any subsequent recovery from others should be repaid to the Crown.

2. Section 89 Amounts of Compensation for Receivers of Orders or Directions

a) General Comment

It was suggested to the Panel that the amount to be paid by the Crown to an applicant should be sufficient to fully compensate the recipient of the order or direction for its costs and expenses incurred and that the Regulation be drafted in a manner which would not alarm the recipient of an order or direction because the process for compensation from the Crown is perceived by the public to be cumbersome and subject to potentially unreasonable conditions.

b) Amount of Compensation

It is the Panel's conclusion that the compensation to be paid to the applicantshould fully reimburse the applicant for all of the costs and expenses incurred in complying with the order or direction. The reimbursement should take into consideration the level of expertise possessed by the applicant and the conditions under which decisions and actions must be taken. Thus the applicant's reimbursement from the Crown for costs and expenses should not be limited, other than for the applicant's gross negligence or patent unreasonableness.

#26. Recommendation: That compensation paid to recipients of orders or directions should be for all costs and expenses save those that are patently unreasonable or incurred due to the gross negligence of the applicant.

c) Deductions

It is the Panel's suggestion that if the recommendation for a general obligation to only claim for those amounts that the applicant has not been compensated for and to repay subsequent recoveries from others, is adopted, the need for the detailed and ambiguous provisions found in s.2.7.B.& C. and the closing phrase, would disappear. The provision as presently drafted could complicate the administration of this part of the Draft Regulation and add unnecessary uncertainties to the determination of the amount of compensation.

#27. Recommendation: That s.2.7.B. & C. and the closing phrase after the words "... not obligated to repay..." be deleted to avoid uncertainty in application.

d) Settlements and Judgments

The Panel examined whether the principle contained in s.2.8.A. should be retained in order that the amount of the applicant's right to compensation would not exceed the amount obtained in a judgment.

The Panel also addressed itself to the question of whether the applicant with the Crown's written consent could settle its claim with a third party without prejudicing its rights to be compensated for the balance of its costs and expenses from the Crown. The Panel concludes that the condition found in the s.2.8.B. of the Draft Regulation may result in forcing an applicant to abandon negotiations that may lead to partial settlement only, in order to preserve the right to total compensation from the Crown, resulting in a net loss to the Crown.

#28. Recommendation: That judgments should determine the ultimate amount collectible by an applicant and settlements should be permissible with the written consent of the Crown without prejudicing the applicant's right to claim the remainder from the Crown.

3. Section 91 Amounts of Compensation for Owners or Persons in Control of a Spilled Pollutant

a) General Comment

Many concerns were expressed regarding the complicated concepts contained in Part II of the Draft Regulation, the resolution of which may be the potential subject of many court actions. The view was expressed that as a result of this concern few, if any, would receive the benefits originally intended by the creation of the Corporation. These concerns were addressed against the back-ground of an unprecedented world-wide disruption in the private insurance business as noted in Part V of this report.

The Panel after much deliberation and with the hope of achieving greater simplicity and overall equity concluded that for the owner or person in control of a spilled pollutant, the formula contained in the present s.8(1) "Firstly" remain in many respects the same, but that:

- the amount of "total liability" to be considered be more cleary defined,
- the specified deductible be changed, and
- the computation of the maximum amount payable in "B" be changed to take into consideration the amount of the applicant's applicable insurance coverage.

It is also recommended that the computation relating to the extra-provincial assets of a business as set out in s.8(1) "Secondly" be deleted so that persons carrying on business both in Ontario and elsewhere should not have their right to compensation reduced by the factor of their operations elsewhere.

b) Payment Formula

Submissions were received recommending that the formula in s.8(1) be changed by deleting all of the provisions after the word "Secondly" to eliminate its limiting effect on businesses located in Ontario, but also carrying on business outside the Province to compensation from E.C.C. The application of such a ratio for extra-provincial assets seems to unreasonably and unnecessarily complicate the formula.

The Panel also considered adding to the equation found in s.8(1) "Firstly" B. the amount of the insurance coverage the applicant has applicable to the liability arising from a spill. By adding in the "applicable insurance" in "B" the person who insures for an amount in excess of the specified deductible is not at a disadvantage when determining the maximum amount payable by E.C.C., thus removing what might have otherwise appeared to be a disincentive for insuring when the greater of the specified deductible or applicable insurance is deducted from the calculation found in s.8(1)"A".

#29. Recommendation: That the compensation formula remain essentially the same with the exception of taking into account "the applicable insurance" in the computation of the maximum amount payable found in s.8(1)"Firstly" B. and deleting the computation relating to extra-provincial assets.

c) "Total Liability"

Section 8(1) of the Draft Regulation establishes a formula for determining the amount of compensation that may be authorized for payment by E.C.C. to an owner and controller of a spilled pollutant.

In defining terms contained in the formula, the meaning of "the total liability of the applicant" should include all those liabilities and costs and expenses of the owner or person in control of the spilled pollutant which have arisen as a result of Part IX of the Act, provided the owner or controller is not otherwise liable at common law for the spill incident (see Comment and Recommendation #8.)

This would eliminate to a large degree the ambiguity in determining the amount referred to in s.8(5) which requires the E.C.C. to determine the much debated question of what constitutes the additional liabilities, costs and expenses imposed on the owner or controller by Part IX of the Act, when the owner or person in control is also liable at common law. This condition in the Draft Regulation has been called "a recipe for endless litigation", as there is a great divergence of opinion as to what may or may not constitute this incremental cost.

#30. Recommendation: That the owner's or controller's application for compensation for liabilites, costs and expenses be limited to those incurred by an owner or person in control who is not otherwise liable at common law for the spill.

d) Deductions and Exclusions from "Total Liability"

Within the context of the proposed conditions that the applicant should have a duty to proceed with due diligence to determine the net uncompensated liability it has for a spill (see Recommendations #13 and #25) the Panel concluded it is therefore unnecessary to have the detailed provisions found in s.6.1 of the Draft Regulation. The Panel also noted that s.6.1 has received many varying interpretations and for that reason alone should be either clarified or omitted from the Regulation.

#31. Recommendation: That s.6.1 be deleted in light of the general recommendation concerning the determination of net uncompensated liability and the exclusion of amounts received and payable found in Recommendations #13 and #25.

Section 8(4)(a) provides that "damages and expenses" incurred as a result of the applicant's failure to carry out its statutory duty to clean up and restore, should be subtracted from the amount otherwise payable as compensation.

It is the Panel's recommendation that these "damages and expenses" should instead be excluded from the total liability used in the formula, and not deducted from the amount otherwise payable.

Furthermore, in s.8(4)(a) the word "reasonably" should be inserted at the end of the second line to qualify the losses, damages, costs or expenses that could have been prevented by the applicant.

#32. Recommendation: That losses, damages, costs and expenses that could have been reasonably prevented by the applicant should be excluded from the applicant's "total liability" as used in the formula for determining the amount of compensation.

Section 8(4)(b) provides that "damages and expenses"incurred as a result of the applicant's failure to comply with any order or recommendation, should be a deduction from the amount otherwise payable as compensation. It is the Panel's recommendation that these "expenses" should be instead excluded from the total liability used in the formula. Further, submissions were received which critically addressed the onerous nature of this provision and the Panel finds merits in those criticisms. (For further discussion see comments for Recommendation #42.)

#33 Recommendation: That s.8(4)(b) be re-drafted to exclude from the amount of the owners'or controllers "total liability" the "damages and expenses" arising out of a failure to reasonably co-operate with the government official in charge of directing the clean-up and restoration.

e) Definitions

Section 3 of the Draft Regulation defines a number of terms on which submissions have been received. The Panel would like to address the following :

i) Classes and Specified Deductibles

In light of the many submissions voicing concern regarding the availability of insurance at reasonable rates to cover the additional potential liabilities that may be created by Part IX of the Act, the Panel proposes three Classes of Applicants for the purposes of determining the applicable specified deductible.

In a general way, this proposal recognizes the varying abilities of the public to insure or absorb the financial risk exposure of Part IX and at the same time it maintains an incentive for owners and persons in control to take appropriate steps to prevent spills.

#34. Recommendation: New amounts for specified deductibles be established for three new classes of applicants as follows:

- Class I to include all individuals, non-profit organizations and small municipalities and corporations.
- Class II to include all medium-sized municipalities and corporations.
- Class III to include all large municipalities and corporations.

In the context of the insurance market disruption noted in Part V of this report,the Panel suggests that the specified deductible for each Class should be incrementally raised over the next three years to coincide with the anticipated restoration of capacity in the insurance market.

#35. Recommendation: That the following levels of specified deductibles be adopted for each class:

Year	Class I	Class II	Class III
1985/86	$200,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
1987	$300,000	$750,000	$2,000,000
1988	$500,000	$1,000,000	$5,000,000

In establishing the classification, the size of a corporation could be determined on the basis of the greater of its net assets at book value or gross revenue. This approach appears to be preferable to the complex "family of corporations" solution presently found in s.3(1)(c) of the Draft Regulation. (See Recommendation #37.) Municipalities could be measured by their gross revenue.

Within the time of the Panel's mandate, the Panel has not been able to generate meaningful data that would fairly represent what constitutes small, medium and large corporations and municipalities. If this concept is accepted, it is our belief that appropriate numbers could be generated.

#36. Recommendation: That the classification of corporations be determined by the greater of net assets or gross revenue. That the classification of municipalities be determined by gross revenue.

ii) "Assets"

There have been many comments regarding the determination of assets as presently defined in the Draft Regulation. In order to simplify this determination, an applicant who does not wish to provide financial evidence to qualify for a Class I or II Specified Deductible, may elect to be governed by the Class III Specified Deductible.

Furthermore, proof of assets and revenue should not require statements certified by a Chartered Accountant. A financial statement accompanied by affidavits of verification by the Chief Executive Officer of the corporation or the Chief Administrative Officer of the Municipality should be sufficient.

In determining the net asset value of a corporation, it is the Panel's view that the concept of the "family of corporations" as set out in the present definition of "assets" should be deleted unless it is found that a practice develops of creating shell corporations for the purpose of limiting or minimizing exposure to Part IX liability. Should this become common practice the Panel would suggest that the Regulation could then be amended to counter this practice. However, the formula of the greater of assets or revenues has been put forward with the intention of discouraging the creation of shell companies.

In the evaluation of assets, consideration was given to using the present market value, but it is the Panel's opinion that this would unnecessarily complicate the Regulation and its administration.

In light of the above, many of the definitions presently found in the Draft Regulation will either require amendment or deletion (e.g. s.3(1)(c),(d),(f),(h),(j),(k),(l) and s.3(2)(a) and (b)).

#37. Recommendation: That proof of assets and revenue be provided by a financial statement that, if unaudited, must be verified by affidavit of the Chief Executive Officer, and further that those corporations and municipalities that elect not to provide such proof be deemed to be in Class III. The assets and revenues to be used are those of the corporation only.

f) Non-Residents

As stated earlier, it is the Panel's recommendation that the amount of compensation available to non-residents of Ontario should be limited to the amounts as presently set out in s.6.3. which limit the amount of payment to that which is recognized in the legislation of the non-resident's jurisdiction.

The computation in s.8(1) following the word "Secondly" dealing with extra-provincial assets appears to be unreasonably complicated and was widely criticized. The Panel concludes that the provision should be deleted.

#38. Recommendation: That the amount of compensation available for non-residents be governed by the amount available to Ontario residents under the reciprocal legislation of the applicant's jurisdiction; and further that the extra-provincial assets of a resident business should not be a consideration in the formula determining compensation in s.8(1).

4. Section 91 Amounts of Compensation for Spill Creditors

a) General Comment

Payments by E.C.C. to spill creditors are in large part intended to represent a financial safety net for third party victims of spills who, after making every attempt to collect compensation to cover their loss or damage from the party or parties legally responsible for the spill, found themselves with uncollectible judgments.

However, this "last resort" concept of E.C.C. is modified in the Draft Regulation, which now assigns to E.C.C. the right to make limited interim payments to spill creditors.

b) Amount of Compensation

In line with Recommendation #38 the amount of compensation available to non-resident spill creditors should be limited to the amounts as presently set out in ss.6.2 and 6.3, which limit the payments to the amount which is recognized in the legislation of the non-resident's jurisdiction.

#39. Recommendation: That the amount of compensation available for non-resident spill creditors be governed by the amount available to Ontario residents under the reciprocal legislation of the applicant's jurisdiction.

Section 10(2) of the Draft Regulation provides the limit of the amount that may be authorized by the Corporation for payment of compensation to a spill creditor for loss or damage caused by a spill. The Draft Regulation presently sets this limit at $300,000 each for bodily injury or death and for all other loss or damage, including loss or damage to property. It thus establishes a maximum compensation payment to any one spill creditor of $600,000.

The Panel received submissions suggesting that in a serious spill situation, this ceiling on compensation payments may make such payments entirely inadequate, particularly in light of the recent escalation of awards of damages in personal injury cases by Canadian courts.

No evidence or rationale was offered by any of the submissions at what level should be the limit. After a few years of claims experience and on the basis of comprehensive spill statistics, it should be possible to reassess the validity of the present pay-out ceiling. However, in the final analysis, the ultimate level of compensation payments will have to reflect the willingness of the Ontario taxpayers to underwrite the risks created by spills that contaminate the environment and it remains therefore, essentially a political question.

The Panel also received a submission that addressed itself to the question of how the present compensation ceiling could be made more flexible and thereby fairer to a spill creditor. The submission suggested that the present distinction between claims for bodily injury and claims for damage to property and other losses be abandoned and a new maximum payment of $500,000 inclusive for the total claim of any one applicant be established. The Panel is recommending the adoption of this suggestion for the following reasons :

> Firstly, the change will make a greater amount available to pay compensation for any type of loss or damage and thus, probably will result in a fairer compensation system.
> Secondly, it will streamline the administrative procedures of the E.C.C.

#40. Recommendation: That s.10(2)(b) 1 & 2 be deleted and the amount of $500,000 be the inclusive limit up to which the Corporation is empowered to authorize payment of compensation to spill creditors.

c) Deductions and Exclusions

Section 10(1)5.A requires the Corporation to withhold a deductible amount of $500.00 from each claim for loss or damage to property caused by a spill.

A submission critical of the size of the deductible pointed out that the $500.00 amount may represent a hardship to the less affluent person who finds himself the innocent victim of a spill. The Panel considered this question and concluded that it was not able to make a recommendation on this point.

Section 10(1)5.B provides for the deduction from the amount payable to a spill creditor any insurance coverage he may have that is applicable to the losses or damage suffered through the spill. The clause also provides that the amount of the insurance will still be deducted, even if the insured becomes or became disentitled or disqualified to receive the amount, or if he is obliged to return any amount received from the insurer because of neglect or default on his part.

In the view of the Panel, this latter provision may place an unduly harsh penaly on spill creditors who have been prudent enough to contract insurance coverage. It may be more equitable to delete the part of subcl.3 after the words "... loss or damage...". The Panel notes similar concerns with regard to s.10(1)6.C.

#41. Recommendation: That s.10(1)5.B.3 after the words "... loss or damage ..." be deleted.

Section 10(1)5.D reduces the compensation payment to the spill creditor that the Corporation may otherwise authorize by the amount that the total claim for loss or damage has been increased due to the spill creditors failure to comply with "...the lawful orders and recommendations of all public officers with respect to prevention, elimination and amelioration of adverse effects and restoration of the natural environment."

A number of submission critically addressed the onerous nature of that provision and the Panel finds merit in those criticisms. While the underlying concept may be sound, the wording of cl.D is too wide and lacks the necessary certainty to be fair and equitable to a spill creditor who finds himself in an emergency situation and is expected to comply with "...the recommendations of all public officers...".

#42. Recommendation: That s.10(1)5.D be re-drafted to exclude from the spill creditors claim any damages or expenses arising out of a spill creditor's failure to reasonably cooperate with the government official in charge of directing the clean-up and restoration.

Section 10.(1).1 excludes interest on a judgment or on costs from the amount the Corporation may authorize for payment to a spill creditor.

It is unclear from the wording whether the award of any pre-judgment interest (see s.138, Courts of Justice Act, S.O.1984, c.11) to the spill creditor would also be deducted from the total amount of the judgment.

The Panel has no recommendation on the substance of this provision beyond pointing out the need for clarification.

III. THE EXEMPTIONS FOR CERTAIN TYPES OF SPILLS

1. General Comment

In ss.15 to 19 the Draft Regulation classifies and exempts certain spills either from Part IX of the Act or only from the reporting duty under s.80 of the Act.

2. Exemptions from the Act

The exemptions in s.15 are for the purpose of avoiding conflict between provisions of Part IX and provisions of other parts of the Act, the Pesticides Act, R.S.O.1980, c.364 and the Ontario Water Resources Act, R.S.O. 1980,c.361. Under all of the above legislation, orders, approvals, certificates, licences and permits relating to a spill, or a spill causing activity, may be issued.

Many of the submissions received by the Panel were critical of all exemptions, but most frequently singled out was the exemption under s.15(1)1 of spills from sewage or water works approved under the Ontario Water Resources Act, many of which are operated by municipalities. Similiar objections were raised against the exemption in s.15(1)4 of spills from sewage systems which are operated under certificates of approval issued under Part VII of the Act. In both of the above cases, the exemption is only effective if a spill occurs at the location and by a physical method that are in accordance with the approval or certificate.

The contention of the critics of the proposed exemption of municipal sewage or water works is that municipal governments should set an example by its treatment of the environment and not be allowed to use operating approvals under other statutory provisions to escape the effect of Part IX of the Act.

On the other hand, one large urban municipality requested that it be granted a "...complete exemption of spills from water or sewage systems from Part IX of the Act...". Municipal submissions point to the much greater risk inherent in a public system arising from illegal dumping of contaminants by parties unknown that can critically affect the proper functioning of sewage treatment installations.

An apprehension was also expressed that the application of Part IX liability could expose a municipality to an unpredictably large increase in liability following severe weather and related basement flooding due to inadequate sewer capacity or unpreventable blockages, if such occurrences are held to be spills under Part IX of the Act.

While the Panel is sympathetic to concerns expressed by the municipalities, it is submitted that their concerns arise more out of a keen sense of caution rather than from the actual provisions of the Draft Regulation. The Panel is not convinced that the problem of municipal Part IX responsibility for illegal discharges of pollutants into municipal sewer systems and the question of legal responsibility for sewer back-ups and basement flooding cannot be answered by reference to Part IX of the Act itself and its definition sections. Similarly, comments can be made regarding the municipal concerns about legal liability under Part IX arising from the spreading of road salt and its storage in open air piles.

While the Panel does not feel that it is possible to delete the spill exemptions in s.15 of the draft regulations without creating confusion and conflict between the various approval and licensing procedures under applicable legislation, it recognizes that there is a potential for circumvention of the purpose and intent of Part IX of the Act.

#43. Recommendation: That the Ministry carefully analyse the procedures under the various statutes and regulations governing the issuance of the approvals, certificates, orders, licenses or permits referred to in s.15 of the Draft Regulation in order to establish that the purpose and intent of Part IX of the Act forms an integral part of the criteria when such permitting documents are issued.

Section 15(1)2.A exempts waste management systems or waste disposal sites operating under certificates of approval issued pursuant to Part V of the Act.

Under s.24(f) of the Act, the definition of "waste management systems" appears to include road transport vehicles used in the operation of the system. The point raised in one of the submissions is, whether the exemption from Part IX of waste management systems therefore extends to spills from waste hauling vehicles.

#44. Recommendation: That the question of an exempt status of waste hauling transport vehicles by s.15(1)2.A be clarified.

3. Ancillary Comment

A frequently recurring criticism of an alleged exemption from Part IX of the Act was aimed at Ontario Hydro. It appears that the exclusion of heat and radiation from the definition of "pollutant" in s.79 (2)(f) of the Act led many of the critics to the conclusion that this exclusion was intended to exempt an important part of Ontario Hydro operations from Part IX liability spills.

In this context the Panel notes that the exemption of heat and radiation in s.79(2)(f) of the Act does not appear to extend to the substances serving as carriers of heat or radiation. Thus, a spill of heated water or radioactive waste by Ontario Hydro or by any other person could give rise to legal responsibility under Part IX of the Act.

4. Exemptions from Reporting Duty

Section 16(2) exempts planned spills from the reporting duty under s.80 of the Act, provided that the owner or person in control notifies the Director in advance as to the time, location and details of the planned spill, including information about the potential effects of the spill. The planned spill cannot be carried out without the prior consent of the Director and while the spill is in progress, there must be monitoring for effects, which must then be reported to the Director.

As drafted presently, the subsection sets out a procedure that appears to imply an approval of the planned spill by the Director. This impression may give the owner or person in control a false sense of security, since despite the consent of the Director and the prescribed procedures, the spill is not exempt from Part IX (save s.80 reporting duty), and thus the owner and the person in control remain fully liable for clean up and restoration cost and any third party claims that may arise because of the spill. The subsection should be redrafted to more clearly reflect this fact.

#45. Recommendation: that s.16(2) be re-drafted to clearly state that it does not exempt from legal liability under Part IX, but only from the reporting duties under s.80 of the Act.

Section 17(3) enumerates five liquids that allow the application of this section to a spill. This list omits propane, natural gas and any other propellant fuels, which should be included.

#46. Recommendation: That the catalogue of liquids in s.17(3)(a) to (e) be replaced by the term "operating fuels and fluids".

IV. THE LIMIT OF LIABILITY PRESCRIBED FOR FARMERS AND THE QUALIFICATIONS FOR ENJOYING THE BENEFITS OF THE LIMIT

The farming community showed an active interest in this subject as evidenced by submissions from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA), and by some thirteen regional Federations as well as individual farmer comment.

1. Limit of Liability

Since many farmer representatives doubted their ability to obtain more than $500,000 of insurance after Part IX of the Act takes effect, it was presumed that the $500,000 limit (rather than the amount of insurance) would be the greater amount and thus the applicable limit as set out in s.14(4) of the Draft Regulation.

In considering this limit, the Panel's discussions with persons making submissions dealt only with the limit in s.14(4), and were not concerned with the provision of any limit for liability other than under Part IX of the Act.

One regional Federation, and the OFA stated that farmers should not have a ceiling on their liability. OFA's statement however was coupled to an objection to liability without fault. The other regional Federations generally supported the $500,000 limit.

If the proposed classification applicable to an owner or controller's specified deductible is adopted, farmers, as individuals, could potentially access E.C.C. at $200,000 incrementing over a period of three years to the $500,000 specified deductible ceiling (see Recommendations #34 & 35).

However, if access to E.C.C is restricted to those not otherwise liable at common law, a farmer with any degree of common law liability is deprived of access to E.C.C., and therefore it appears advisable that the limit in Part III should be retained.

#47. Recommendation: That no change be made in the current limit of farmer liability in Part III of the Draft Regulation (s.14(4)).

2. Farmers' Qualifications

The Draft Regulation in s.14(2) establishes as prescribed farmers those engaged in the production of an agricultural product on the farm, i.e. their own farm. In discussing with the various farm spokesmen the position of the "good neighbour" farmer helping an adjacent farmer with his more suitable equipment, the unanimous opinion was that in that situation, he should continue to enjoy the Part III limit.

With regard to the custom operator whose primary income is derived in this activity rather than from his own farm operation, opinion was generally that for incidents related to the custom operation, he should not be considered a farmer, but that while engaged in the operation of his own farm he should receive the benefit of the limit.

#48. Recommendation: That prescribed farmers include those who have incurred a liability under Part IX of the Act arising out of the production of an agricultural product whether on their own farm or the farm of another, except that a custom farming operator whose principal source of income is from such custom work should not be a prescribed farmer with respect to liability incurred under Part IX of the Act while engaged in such custom work.

3. Ancillary Comment

There was considerable discussion in every submission as to what consituted "normal farming practices" for the purpose of determining what may constitute a spill. Farmers were generally apprehensive of the problem which arises from urban encroachment, and the efforts of new neighbours to have the long established farmer reduce the manure exposure. There was no consensus among the farmers on this point.

Some suggested that the intensive farming operation which has evolved in recent years with a large number of animals confined in a zero grazing enclosure is an abnormal production of both animal waste and odour. The certificate of compliance in use by the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food was cited by a number of spokesmen as a possible basis for determining what was "normal", but there was no consensus that this is a practical way to effectively deal with this matter.

The additional liability imposed on the farmer when the supplier of fertilizer requires transfer of title to the farmer at the point of shipment was a matter of concern. Our discussions with several farm insurers indicate that few farmers insure against the liability arising from the operation of a non-owned automobile. However, the new liability created by the off-premises transfer of ownership will motivate the purchase of non-owned automobile insurance, a form of insurance in wide use by the business community.

V. THE CONDITIONS WHICH MUST BE MET BY INSURERS TO EXERCISE THEIR RIGHTS OF SUBROGATION

A recurring objection by industry to Part IX of the Act for several years has been the alleged lack of availability of liability insurance following proclamation. The current world-wide disorientation of insurance markets has added fuel to this objection.

Many of the submissions noted the problems encountered by their members in buying insurance in this severely disrupted market, quite apart from the impact of Part IX of the Act taking effect. Indications from all sources are that this is the most severe constriction of available insurance coverage experienced by anyone in business today. Its duration is unpredictable but even the most optimistic observers do not expect a return to normal before 1988.

1. General Comment

The Insurance Bureau of Canada (I.B.C.),the representative of the private sector property and casualty insurance companies has had this legislation under active consideration for several years. In spite of public statements from others that insurance would not be available after proclamation of Part IX, I.B.C. and some of its principal member insurers have held their counsel on this point. By I.B.C.'s submission and subsequent dialogue with I.B.C. and insurers, there has been a clear indication of a search for workable conditions that will protect the interests of the Crown and, at the same time, enable insurers to provide coverage for liability arising out of Part IX of the Act.

Again, the comprehensibility factor showed, as I.B.C. and many of its individual members have been unable to bring into clear focus the insurer/Crown and E.C.C. relationship. They stated their confidence that mutually satisfactory conditions would be more readily achieved if the Regulation, in terms of subrogation procedures, was more easily understood by a significant number of insurers.

In support of this view they noted their proven ability to co-exist with OHIP (through the Health Insurance Act, R.S.O 1980, c.197) and the co-operation which normally prevails between layers of primary and excess insurers in the protection by one insurer of the interests of both in any recovery action without complex procedures.

2. Part V of the Draft Regulation

In considering the protection which the Crown needs under Part V of the Regulation, an understanding of the guidelines in use between primary and excess layers of liability insurers with respect to allocation of recovery, may be helpful. The primary insurer normally initiates and pursues the recovery action on behalf of all layers of insurance. The proceeds of recovery are allocated first to the top layer (either insurer, or insured's own uninsured interest), next to the immediate lower amount of insurance, and finally, if there are proceeds remaining, to the primary insurer. Thus the primary insurer is thoroughly motivated to maximize recovery in their own interest.

Similarly, in the context of insurers and the Crown under Part IX, insurers are in the primary role, and would firstly deprive themselves of recovery if their action on behalf of both interests, the Crown's and their own, is less than energetic.

In the following review of Part V, the specific comments of I.B.C. and the comparable conditions of the Health Insurance Act are noted.

In the context of the under-noted recommendation, s.21 providing for Class A insurers now appears acceptable to insurers.

Section 22(1)1 requires a Class A insurer to include in an action a claim for any payment which has been or may be made by the Crown. This is comparable to s.37 of the Health Insurance Act, which has proven workable to insurers.

Section 22(1)2 requires the insurer to give notice of such action to the Crown. I.B.C. stated that insurers would be readily capable of providing such notice, and they foresaw no problem with that requirement.

Condition 2 also requires insurers to follow the instructions of the Crown. OHIP has no similar requirement and in the insurers' position of the primary layer, and the last in line for recovery proceeds, the need for this condition is not apparent. In the Panel's view, a general obligation requiring the insurer to protect the interests of both parties, in the absence of a conflict of interest should suffice.

Condition 3 requires the insurer to pay to the Crown the amount paid by the Crown under Part IX, from the net proceeds of any action. Insurers' concern is with respect to an action which they may bring not only for the amount paid by the Crown, but for other causes of action as well. If the subsequent award is less than the total claimed, and the court has not apportioned it, the insurers believe that this condition would give the Crown first draw on the recovery to the detriment of the insurer's recovery with respect to the other causes of action. The Panel recommends that in the above case, condition 3 provide that the recovery be shared proportionately between the Crown and the insurer.

Condition 4 requires the consent of the Crown before the insurer settles. This condition is comparable to s.40 of the Health Insurance Act, which is not objectionable to insurers.

Section 22(2) provides that s.22(1) does not apply if the Crown consents, and thus should have the support of insurers.

Section 22(3) would be unnecessary if in s.22 (1)2, the obligation to follow the Crown's instructions is dropped.

#49 Recommendation : That in s.22(1)2, the obligation on the insurer to follow the Crown's instructions be replaced by a general obligation on the insurer to protect the interests of both the Crown and the insurer.

That in s.22(1)3, in the case of an unapportioned award which includes other causes of action the recovery be shared proportionately between the Crown and the insurer.

3. Ancillary Comment

Statistical Assistance: The insurers have stated that their statistical facility has not segregated and identified spill incidents in the past. Ministry data are of some assistance to them, but since spill cost has not been quantified, they are of limited value.

For the future, insurers noted that since not all spills will be insured, the information collected by Insurers Advisory Organization, the statistical office of the insurers, will be partial only. They therefore welcomed the suggestion that the Ministry's information could supplement theirs and enable them to rate the spill exposure more precisely. If the reporting duty under s.80 of the Act is found to be not broad enough to obtain cost figures, information provided to E.C.C. by applicants could be used to enable the Ministry to compile a reliable and comprehensive data base.

VI. ANY OTHER MATTERS WHICH THE ACT AUTHORIZES TO BE DEALT WITH BY REGULATION IN RELATION TO PART IX OF THE ACT.

This term of reference finds its statutory authority in s.136(7) of the Act which in general allows for the prescribing of any matter authorized by Part IX in the form of regulation. The Panel has identified the following as some of the matters that could be dealt with within this term of reference:

1. The time limits for payment of compensation by the Crown,

2. The designation of persons authorized to initiate clean-up,

3. The designation of additional duties for the Corporation, and

4. The designation of additional duties of an inspector of the Corporation.

1. The Time Limits for Payment of Compensation by the Crown

The Panel considers that ss.89(1) and 97(2) of the Act permit the prescription within the Regulation of the time and conditions under which payments may be authorized. The Panel in its discussion of the first term of reference relating to conditions to be met by applicants, has made recommendations in this regard (see Recommendations #5, #15 and #22).

2. The Designation of Persons Authorized to Initiate Clean-Up

Section 88(1)(c)of the Act permits the designation by regulation of a person or member of a class of persons who may initiate clean-up and restoration activities.

Section 88(4) of the Act provides that a person or class of persons so designated have the right to compensation from the owner and the person having control of the pollutant for "all reasonable cost and expense" thus incurred. That right may be enforced in a court of competent jurisdiction.

The Panel did receive a submission requesting that the following class of persons be so designated:

> A Band Council of an Indian Community on reserve land under federal jurisdiction of the Indian Act and within the boundaries of Ontario.

This is a matter that the Minister may wish to consider. Otherwise, the Panel, does not recommend the designation of any person or class of persons by regulation pursuant to s.88(1)(c) of the Act.

3. The Designation of Additional Duties for the Corporation

Presently the Corporation, as outlined in s.101 of the Act, has the following powers:

- to receive and assess applications for compensation,
- to authorize payments of compensation,
- to take action or commence proceedings where authorized, and
- to carry out such other duties as prescribed by regulation.

a) Discretionary Power

The Panel, in other areas of this report, has made recommendations containing proposals that would give the Corporation power to exercise its discretion, such as the waiving of a condition required of an applicant seeking compensation.

It is the Panel's recommendation that if the Corporation is to be given such discretionary powers by regulation, it is important that clear objectives be established within the Regulation for the exercise of such powers.

For the purpose of illustration the proposed discretionary power of the Corporation to waive the condition relating to court actions should only be exercised where the E.C.C. is of the opinion that, as a result of the financial state of a judgment debtor, any further steps by the applicant are viewed by the Corporation as "throwing good money after bad".

It is the concern of the Panel that, if the basis upon which the discretion may be exercised is unclear, there exists the possibility that the Corporation would feel restrained and as a result the power would rarely be exercised.

b) Reciprocity Determination

Pursuant to s.6.2 of the Draft Regulation, the Corporation must determine whether a jurisdiction, other than Ontario, has legislation that is "similar to Part IX of the Act." Section 4(2)(e) of the Draft Regulation addresses the reciprocal nature of compensation to non-residents but does not make this determination subject to the opinion of the Corporation.

It is the recommendation of the Panel that if the Corporation is to determine reciprocity, then a clear framework should be included within the Regulation as to the basis to be applied in performing such a function.

The Panel suggests that the framework should establish the timing for the determination of reciprocity (e.g. dates of spill, damage, or judgement), along with other appropriate tests to be applied for any given spill (see Appendix A for an examination of the two provisions in the Draft Regulation which address reciprocity).

It is further suggested that if the Corporation is to be given the duty to determine reciprocity it should also be given the right to be able to pre-determine which jurisdictions meet the applicable tests and make such information available to the public. Thus, unless changes occur in the jurisdiction's legislation, an applicant may be able to readily and without overwhelming costs, establish whether reciprocity exists.

4. The Designation of Additional Duties of an Inspector of the Corporation

The Panel did not receive any submission which specifically addressed the duties of an inspector appointed by the Corporation. Presently, those duties outlined in s.105 of the Act include:

- assessment of compensation applications, and

- to perform any additional investigation that may be necessary or required by the Corporation

Section 105(2)(c) of the Act provides for the designation by regulation of any additional duties.

The Panel suggests that if additional duties are to be given to these inspectors, care be taken to ensure that their function does not duplicate that already provided by the Ministry.

APPENDIX A

RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO FORM AND STRUCTURE

I. CONSISTENCY BETWEEN PART I AND PART II OF THE DRAFT REGULATION

There are a number of provisions in the compensation schemes provided in Parts I and II of the Draft Regulation that could be termed as being of general application. It is suggested that such provisions be consistent in their application, whether as a condition of compensation from the Crown or the Corporation.

The following table outlines those sections which may be considered as being of general application:

DESCRIPTION OF PROVISION	PART I	PART II
application form, etc.	s.2.1.A	s.5.2.A
*disclosure from others	s.2.3.A	s.5.2.D
*access, survey, copies, etc.	s.2.3.B	s.5.3
no settlement w/o consent	s.2.6.A	s.5.5
*include all persons in action	s.2.6.B	s.9.3(i)
*assignment of rights	s.2.6.C	s.9.3(iv)C
*no payment where action dismissed	s.2.8.A	s.10(1)4

There are sections within Part II of the Draft Regulation that should be of general application but are not found in Part I. Such sections are outlined in the following table:

DESCRIPTION OF PROVISION	PART II
no misrepresentation	ss.5.4, 12.2
inform of changes after payment	ss.9.12, 12.3
repayment of amounts recovered	s.12.1

* Applicable only if the Panel's Recommendations are not implemented.

II. PART II OF THE DRAFT REGULATION

It has been suggested that the provisions concerning the compensation of spill creditors be placed in a separate part from those concerning owners and persons in control.

There are provisions in Part II of the Draft Regulation concerning the calculation of the amount of compensation available to a spill creditor that are not addressed in the comparable provisions for owners and persons in control. It is suggested that such provisions be addressed in both situations. The following table outlines some of those sections that may not be found in the provisions in Part II regarding compensation to owners and persons in control.

interest on judgment excluded	s.10(1)1
legal costs included	s.10(1)2,3

III. RECIPROCITY

The concept of residency appears in s.4(2)(e) and s.6.2., however, it is expressed differently in each section. Section 4(2)(e) uses the phrase "...a person who ordinarily resides outside Ontario..." while s.6.2 uses the phrase "...an applicant who does not ordinarily reside in Ontario ...". It is suggested that s.4(2)(e) be made consistent with s.6.2.

Section 4(2)(e) expresses the test of reciprocity to include "...a jurisdiction where the law is in effect on the day that the spill occurs provides to persons who reside in Ontario recourse of a substantially similar character to that provided by Part IX of the Act and the regulations relating to Part IX...".(emphasis added)

Section 6.2 uses a different language, "...a jurisdiction in which the applicant ordinarily resides has legislation that, in the opinion of the Corporation, is similar to Part IX of the Act ...". (emphasis added)

It is sugested that the text as outlined in s.4(2)(e) is more appropriate.

A concern was raised in a submission, that s.4(2)(e) may exclude Indians living on federal reserve lands within Ontario. This matter may require clarification.

IV. CARETAKING

1) In s.6.3 of the Draft Regulation the phrase "where paragraph 2 applies" should be replaced with "where an applicant is entitled under paragraph 2 of this section";

2) In s.7.5 of the Draft Regulation the word "make" should be replaced with "authorize";

3) In s.9.3(iv)B and s.10(1)3.B the word "taxed" should be replaced with "assessed" to bring the Regulation in line with the Ontario Rules of Civil Procedure;

*4) In s.9.3(iv)B of the Draft Regulation the word "and" in the third line after the word "basis" should be replaced with "or", as it does not appear to be practical to have costs assessed on both a party and party basis and a solicitor and client basis.

V. NUMBERING SCHEME

There does appear to be a lack of consistency within the Draft Regulation concerning the numbering of sections, subsections, etc. (e.g. "9.3(iv)B" and "10(1)3B"). It is suggested that the numbering scheme be reviewed to confirm that standard legislative drafting practices are applied.

* Applicable only if the Panel's Recommendations are not implemented.

Summary

The Regulation

1. Establishes the requirements for eligibility for

   (a) a payment from the Crown for costs and expense in carrying out a ministerial order under section 89 of the Act,

   (b) a payment authorized by the Environmental Compensation Corporation for compensation for loss resulting from a spill or costs and expense in carrying out an order or other duty to clean up under section 91 of the Act.

2. Provides formulas for calculating the amount of such payments.

3. Classifies and limits the liability of farmers under Part IX (the limits do not affect their liability for a spill at common law or otherwise than under Part IX).

4. Classifies and exempts certain types of spills from some provisions of Part IX.

5. Provides conditions under which insurers can exercise their subrogated rights with respect to spills without obtaining individual consents of the Crown or the Corporation which the Act would otherwise require under subsections 89(10) and 98(5).

Payment from Province - Two Types.

1. Through Ministry under section 89 for the cost or expense of third parties in carrying out orders or directions ("Orders") for which the owner or person in control ("Owner") is liable under clause 87 (2)(b).

Notes: Owner cannot recover under section 89.

Although an Owner is not liable under Part IX for loss or damage, if he
- took all reasonable steps to prevent spill (S.87(3)); or
- the spill was caused by third party (war, God, or sabotage)(S.87(3)(a)(b) and (c)), the Owner is still liable (under clause 87(4)(b)) for clean up, including restoration and amelioration and (under clause 87(4)(a)) for damages resulting from neglect or default in carrying out these activities.

2. Through Corporation under section 91

- if a member of a prescribed class who meets prescribed conditions
  - for (a) loss or damage from
    - spill (S.91(1)(a)(i))
    - carrying out a duty (S.91(a)(ii))
    - neglect in carrying out a duty (S.91(1)(a)(iii))

  (b) reasonable expense carrying out Order (S.91(1)(b))

  (c) compensation payable by the Owner (S.91(1)(c)).

Note: No class has been prescribed for clause 91(1)(b), only for clauses (a) and (c). Therefore, recovery of cost and expense of carrying out an Order is made under section 89 and therefore, Owners can only recover if liable to pay compensation to third parties and hence can claim under clause 91(1)(c).

In the following pages "R.", refers to a section of the draft regulation, for example (R.15(1)1) refers to paragraph 1 of subsection 1 of section 15 of the regulation.

Farmers

Liability of Farmers (including incorporated family farms) limited to $500,000 or amount of insurance, if higher (S.111 and R.14)

Note: Only limits Part IX liability.

Classification and Exemption of Spills

- Spills approved under various statutes are exempt from Part IX subject to owner having complied with all other statutes, bylaws, orders, etc. (Most discharges of this type probably will not fall within definitions of spill in first place. Provision is to remove anxiety.) (OWRA - R. 15(1)1) (EPA Part V (waste) - R.15(1)2) (EPA Part II (air) - R.15(1)3) (EPA Part VII (sewage systems) - R.15(1)4) (Pesticides - R.15(1)5)
- Spills planned in advance and approved are exempt from S. 80, the notice provision (R.16)
- Small spills of gas and other operating liquids from motor vehicles are also exempt from S.80, if water not polluted and police notified (R.17)
- Dam collapses are exempt from Part IX (R.18)
- Products of combustion from household size (fewer than 11 households) fires are exempt from Part IX (R.19)

Insurers

Insurers cannot exercise subrogated rights unless have consent of Crown (S.89(10) & (12)) or Corporation (S.98(5) & (7)). This is to ensure Crown's payments are kept to minimum.

Insurers who comply with procedures in Regulation do not need to obtain advance consent (R.21 & 22).

Notification

*S.14 of the EPA requires reporting of certain discharges and is repealed by a Proclamation which can be issued under Section 14(3). It is proposed not to issue this proclamation. A separate regulation would be made with respect to section 14 to exempt from its reporting requirement anything reported under section 80. This would eliminate overlapping reporting requirements and at the same time ensure continued reporting of certain incidents that either are not initially subject to or are exempted from Part IX. The same remarks apply to the notice provision in the Ontario Water Resources Act.
